Blowing Up a Mountain.

The El Paso Herald says: "Three miles this side of Straus the S. P. cutoff survey runs through one corner of a mountain. There is no way to get around it and of course it had to be blown up. Engineer Bienenfelt commenced some time ago putting in a tunnel under the mountain. Last week it was finished and 900 kegs of powder placed in it. Friday it was touched off and the mountain came orderate Ariz Central Copper Co, tumbling down. Concerning the big explosion Engineer Bienenfelt said seemed to have been shaken. long and side cuts were also made. After the powder was stored in the cut it was blocked up and a fuse run out several yards. This was touched for the fire to reach the big mine, but esently a low rumble was heard. and then the whole mountain shook as if an earthquake was on. The dirt and rock was not thrown very high and soon settled down, but was broken up in such a manner as to make it easily handled."
